A CLEAN MAN.

Outside cleanliness is less than half the battle. A man may scrub himself a dozen times a day, and still be unclean. Good health means cleanliness not only outside, but inside. It means a clean stomach, clean bowels, clean blood, a clean liver, and new, clean, healthy tissues and fibers in every organ of the body. The man who is clean in this way will look it and act it. He will work with energy and think clean, clear, healthy thoughts.

He will never be troubled with liver, lung, stomach or blood disorders. Dyspepsia and indigestion originate in unclean stomachs. Blood diseases are found where there is unclean blood.

Consumption and bronchitis mean unclean lungs. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery prevents these diseases. It makes a man's insides clean and healthy. It cleans the digestive organs, makes pure, clean blood, and clean, healthy flesh. It doesn't make the flabby fat of corpulency, but the firm flesh of health. It restores tone to the nervous system, and cures nervous exhaustion and prostration. It contains no alcohol to inebriate or create craving for injurious stimulants.

Mr. John L. Coughenour, of Glen Savage, Somerset Co., Pa., writes: "My appetite was unusually poor, and I was as weak and nervous as though I had been starved for months. My heart kept throbbing continually and I was short of breath. Finally I wrote to you for advice and you informed me that I had indigestion and a torpid liver. I did not think your diagnosis was right, but I ordered six bottles of 'Golden Medical Discovery' from you and began its use. After using three bottles I began to improve slowly and soon went to work, and I have been working ever since."

ANOTHER WONDER OF SCIENCE.

Biology has Proved that Dandruff is Caused by a Germ.

Science is doing wonders these days in medicine as well as in mechanics. Since Adam lived, the human race has been troubled with dandruff, for which no hair preparation has heretofore proved a successful cure until Newbro's Herpicide was put on the market. It is a scientific preparation that kills the germ that makes dandruff or scurf by digging into the scalp to get at the root of the hair, where it saps the vitality; causing itching scalp, falling hair, and finally baldness. Without dandruff hair must grow luxuriantly. It is the only destroyer of dandruff. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

President's Wife to Upset Social Custom.

A dispatch from Washington says beginning next Tuesday the boudoir Cabinet meetings will be the important event of the feminine world, and surprising innovations are promised.

Last year the mistress of the White House accomplisd a change in the personnel of the guests at the Cabinet banquets. Formerly only Cabinet members and their wives broke bread with the President and Mrs. Roosevelt at the round of dinners given by each head of the executive departments. The result was not exhilarating, and when the old order was changed everybody was delighted. Encouraged by this approval Mrs. Roosevelt and her lieutenants, it is said, will attack that ancient bugbear, the "receiving line," at the official reception.

Since the days when Mrs. John Adams welcomed the first New Year's callers at the White House it has been customary for the wives of the Cabinet officers to stand in line after the President's wife, each in the order of her husband's precedence. Now, it is proposed to have the President and Mrs. Roosevelt receive alone, as do the rulers of every country in the world.

The Cabinet hostesses can add much more eclat to the occasion by dispersing themselves among the guests than by standing in a solid phalanx, so rumor says they will adopt this course in future.

It is suggested that in view of the new position which the country holds in the council of nations that the President should unbend toward the diplomatic corps. Hitherto it has been the tradition of Presidents to refrain from accepting any hospitality from the corps, or to visit them at all.

The Emperor of Germany at least once a year dines with the American Ambassador, and the same is true of the British sovereign and nearly all the lesser monarchs of Europe. It is argued, that if the American diplomats are thus honored it would be gracious in President Roosevelt to respond in kind. A vista of dinners and receptions in which the White House and the picturesque foreign corps are brought into such close touch will be of absorbing interest this winter.

It would add greatly to the prestige of the capital as a social centre, and be the first step in the reorganization which is inevitable, if the polite world is to keep pace with the political and commercial.

Herd of Whales Milked Every Day.

Professor Muller, or St. John's, N. F., who was the first man to discover that whale flesh could be prepared for eating has now succeeded in domesticating a herd of more than fifty-sulphur cow whales, and has perfected an apparatus for milking them.

The milk is fresh and sweet, and peculiarly rich in nutritive and medicinal qualities. The yield from a full-grown whale is from five to seven hogsheads a day. It is much thicker and richer than the best cow's milk and possesses a peculiarly pleasant and distinctive flavor which those who have tasted it pronounce superior to any known milk.

Chemical analysis has shown that the milk of the sulphur whale is rich in those products which give to cod liver oil its value as a remedial food.

Professor Muller has invented and patented a process for making leather from the internal membranes of the whale. When tanned and finished, it is of great durability and fine texture.

Besides its superior quality, the whale leather furnishes single pieces of much greater dimensions than it is possible to procure from any other animal. It is possible, according to the inventor, to obtain from the skin of a full-grown sulphur whale a strip of leather about 300 feet in length and three and a half feet in breadth. From the pleural lining a tube of leather twenty-five feet in diameter can be obtained.

Insane on a Train.

Thirty passengers were driven from a coach of the Royal Blue Line express from Philadelphia to New York Saturday by another passenger who suddenly became violent. The train was only 10 miles east of Philadelphia when Abram Isrock, of New York city, leaped into the aisle of the car yelling: "Black, black as night, I'll kill 'em all," Tearing a coal rack down, he threw it at the passenger sitting near him, and then began to pull the plush from the seats. The frightened passengers quickly fled to the other cars and to the platforms, where they watched the work of Isrock. The train was going at a rapid rate when the train crew entered the car and tackled him. Isrock gave the railroad men battle as soon as they entered his car, and the passengers who watched the struggle feared he would prove a match for them all. He fought desperately and with unusual strength, and the train crew overpowered him only after a contest lasting 20 minutes. When Isrock was finally exhausted he was tied up with ropes and trunk straps and brought to Jersey City, where he was placed in a hospital. The attendants there were unable to control him, and he was sent to the county jail.

A TRAINED NURSE

Mrs. Martha Pohlman of 55 Chester Avenue, Newark, N. J., who is a graduate Nurse from the Blockley Training School, at Philadelphia, and for six years Chief Clinic Nurse at the Philadelphia Hospital, writes the letter printed below. She has the advantage of personal experience, besides her professional education, and what she has to say may be absolutely relied upon.

Many other women are afflicted as she was. They can regain health in the same way. It is prudent to heed such advice from such a source.

Mrs. Pohlman writes:

"I am firmly persuaded, after eight years of experience with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, that it is the safest and best medicine for any suffering woman to use.

"Immediately after my marriage I found that my health began to fail me. I became weak and pale, with severe bearing-down pains, fearful backaches and frequent dizzy spells. The doctors prescribed for me, yet I did not improve. I would bloat after eating and frequently become nauseated. I had an acrid discharge and pains down through my limbs so I could hardly walk. It was as bad a case of female trouble as I have ever known. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, however, cured me within four months. Since that time I have had occasion to recommend it to a number of patients suffering from all forms of female difficulties, and I find that while it is considered unprofessional to recommend a patent medicine, I can honestly recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, for I have found that it cures female ills, where all other medicine fails. It is a grand medicine for sick women."

Money cannot buy such testimony as this—merit alone can produce such results, and the ablest specialists now agree that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the most universally successful remedy for all female diseases known to medicine.

When women are troubled with irregular, suppressed or painful menstruation, weakness, leucorrhœa, displacement or ulceration of the womb, that bearing-down feeling, inflammation of the ovaries, backache, bloating (or flatulence), general debility, indigestion, and nervous prostration, or are beset with such symptoms as dizziness, faintness, lassitude, excitability, irritability, nervousness, sleeplessness, melancholy, "all-gone" and "want-to-be-left-alone" feelings, blues and hopelessness, they should remember there is one tried and true remedy. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once removes such troubles.

No other female medicine in the world has received such widespread and unqualified endorsement. No other medicine has such a record of cures of female troubles.

The needless suffering of women from diseases peculiar to their sex is terrible to see. The money which they pay to doctors who do not help them is an enormous waste. The pain is cured and the money is saved by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Experience has proved this.

It is well for women who are ill to write Mrs Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. In her great experience, which covers many years, she has probably had to deal with dozens of cases just like yours. Her advice is free and confidential.

Frightful Suffering Relieved

Suffering frightfully from the virulent poisons of undigested food, C. G. Grayson, of Lula, Miss., took Dr. King's New Life Pills, "with the result," he writes "that I was cured." All stomach and bowel disorders give way to their tonic, laxative properties. 25c at E. S. Leadbeater & Sons, drugstore, guaranteed.

Insomnia and Indigestion Cured

'Last year I had a very severe attack of indigestion. I could not sleep at night and suffered most excruciating pains for three hours after each meal. I was troubled this way for about three months when I used Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets, and received immediate relief," says John Dixon, Tullamore, Ontario, Canada. ALEXANDRIA GAZETTE AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER.

MONDAY EVENING, OCT. 23, 1905.

IT WILL take more than official edicts and proclamations to overcome the effects of the Chinese boycott on American goods, Special Agent Burrill hints in a report to the Department of Commerce and Labor. And this in spite of the weekly reports that the boycott has ended. The feeling against American goods is likely to continue for some time, he says, and so far Americans have evidently succeeded in doing little along commercial lines to calm the troubled waters. In this connection he refers to J. Pierpont Morgan's Canton and Hankow railroad deal as inspiring anything but confidence in American methods. Special Agent Burrill, reporting specifically on the opportunities for the introduction of electricity into the Chinese kingdom, says:

It would take a competent and energetic American engineer a comparatively short time to become familiar with the situation and place himself in a position to enter a field that requires and unquestionably will receive careful cultivation in the near future. It would be necessary, of course, under present conditions, to overcome prejudices and inspire confidence. The boycott temporarily paralyzed American enterprises in China, and although it has collapsed officials, it is impossible to predict, because of its far-reaching effects, when normal conditions will be restored. It has produced a feeling of business uncertainty and timidity that neither edicts nor proclamations from Peking can immediately dispel, and the unfortunate ending of the Canton and Kankow Railroad project has filled the Chinese mind with added suspicion and distrust of American methods. Notwithstanding this, however, it is certain that Chinese authorities would not hesitate to entertain a proposition for electrical construction that would be advantageous to a municipality, even though it were made by a repreeentative of an American company."

THAT the whole amount of Pennsylvania State funds deposited in the wrecked Enterprise National Bank, of Allegheny, will exceed $1,000,000, instead of $782,000, as at first announced, now seems probable. President Gwinner, in a statement issued in Pittsburg last evening, declared that he has been informed that the amount of political and other loans of doubtful value will aggregate $1,500,000. "The politicians looted the bank while customers who wished to make loans were denied," says Mr. Gwinner. The men who aided in looting the bank, are making a desperate effort to raise sufficient funds to remove political paper from the wrecked institution. Corporations are being menaced to this end almost without mercy. Collapse of the Enterprise is reported to have been directly due to the refusal of an Albuquerque, N.M., bank to discount Cashier Clark's note for $20,000 to raise money to meet the monthy pay-roll of W. H. Andrews' railroad. This blow, coming after the Santa Fe's refusal to buy the road under its option, burst the bubble. Homer L. Castle, in a second interview given out yesterday, answers the republican politician's claim that the State will lose nothing by the Enterprise failure by calling attention to the important fact that 3000 citizens lose $2,000,000 of their savings by political knavery.

AT THE annual banquet of the Chicago Bankers' Club in the Auditorium Hotel Saturday night Henry B. F. Macfarland, president of the Commissioners of the District of Columbia, was the principal speaker. His speech was mainly an appeal to the bankers as citizens to aid in the effort to make the capital of the United States the most beautiful city in the world. In time Washington will doubtless be one of the prettiest cities on the globe. It has grown phenomenally during the past quarter of century and is still spreading out in every direction. Previously the city seemed to have been neglected, and when Dickens visited this country in the early forties, the novelist made it a subject of derision. It is not so now, however, but while not as populous nor as compact as the British capital, it is far more pleasing to the eye.

"A YEAR in Hell; or, a Railroad Man's Observations Along the Highway of Justice," is the title John S. Packham, a one-year-man-in-jail, at Macon, Mo., has given to a book he has prepared for publication. It is a collection of his experiences, mixed with moralizations on what he calls the "unjust attitude" the public assumes toward the man whom circumstances throw into the clutches of the law. Packham is confined for forgery and should remember that his own act put him in the place he calls hell, so he should cease his complaints. But "no thief e're felt the halter draw with good opinion of the law."

SENATOR MCCUMBER, of North Dakota, who is in Washington on official business, announces that the advocates of pure food legislation in Congress purpose to work increasingly at the coming session for the passage of the Heyburn bill, which provides safeguards against inter-State traffic in impure liquors and drugs. Why work is necessary for the passage of such a bill can only be explained satisfactorily by the congressmen under the influence of the manufacturers of adulterated foods, liquors and drugs, for everybody else wants these articles pure.

THE Fall River Textile Council has rejected the offer of the Manufacturers' Association of a 5 per cent. advance and a profit-sharing scheme, and requested the restoration of the 12½ per cent. reduction. Fall River suffered from a strike a year ago which paralyzed almost every industry in that city and has never recovered from its baneful effect. Should the textile council and the manufacturers fail to agree now and another strike follow, the result can be easily foretold—the finis of Fall River as a manufacturing centre.

IN SPEAKING of the President's trip through the South, the Philadelphia Record says:

Mr. Roosevelt is saying a great deal in his southern speeches, and saying it with sense, force and effectiveness. Let us sincerely hope that he will not bite into an unripe persimmon. Sweet, indeed, is Sister Dixie—if you kiss fair.

From Washington.

[Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 23.

George E. Green, former State Senator of New York, will have to come to Washington to stand trial for alleged conspiracy with Geo. Beavers to defraud the government on contracts for time recorders in the postoffice department. His appeal to the Supreme Court of the United States was unsuccessful, and Chief Justice Fuller today announced that the final order of removal from New York to the District of Columbia had been affirmed. The decision, he announced, was based on the previous decisions in the case of Beavers and others. At the time of the alleged conspiracy Beavers was superintendent of the devision of salaries and allowances in the Postoffice Department. Green's home is in Binghamton, N. Y.

It is probable that most if not all of the work of digging the Panama Canal will be let out to private contractors. Secretary of War Taft this morning said that it was his opinion that this course should be followed and that economy would result therefrom. It has been the idea of the government that good results could be accomplished in this way, but this is the first time that Secretary Taft, under whose direct charge the work of building the canal has been placed by the President, has admitted it. Mr. Wallace, when he was chief engineer of the canal, recommended this course except in the case of the Culebra Cut. There the work is of so tremendous a character that it was feared that no private contractor might be willing to undertake the job. It is possible, however, that even there the work may be put under contract, although it will be out of the reach of any contractor not backed by large capital. Of course it will be impossible for the government to ask for any bids on any part of the work until the final plans for the canal have been decided upon. The determination as to whether it shall be a lock canal or sea-level canal and, if the former, where the locks shall be located are all points upon which a decision must be reached before a contractor can be asked to submit estimates upon which he would be willing to go to work. The work of making a new harbor at Colon has already been advertised once. Bids were submitted by private contractors, but on account of complaint by some of the bidders that they had not received sufficient time in which to prepare their estimates, and for other reasons, the advertisement was recalled and new bids will be asked in the near future.

Chief Justice Fuller in the Supreme Court today announced that leave had been granted to file a bill of complaint in the case of the State of Georgia versus the Tennessee Copper Company. The company maintained a plant at Ducktown, on the border between the States, which the State of Georgia declares a nuisance and which it wants abated.

While Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Pearson were at church yesterday morning thieves entered their home at 1217 Massachusetts avenue and stole a quantity of jewelry including a solitaire ring valued at $275 and a lady's three stone diamond ring valued at $200.

"The Star-Spangled Banner," when played at a military post, will be received hereafter with additional marks of respect. This is a decision of the War Department based on the recommendation of the general staff, it having been concluded to amend the army regulations so as to prescribe a salute to be rendered when the national anthem is played, the positition of salute being retained during the playing of the air. Hitherto it has been the custom of soldiers and officers merely to stand at attention when the national anthem is played.

Suicide of a Professor.

Sylvester Dwight Judd, formerly professor at the Georgetown University, and also in the government service, committed suicide by hanging yesterday, at his beautiful home, on the Frederick road, near Baltimore. Prof. Judd was found suspended by a rope from the door jamb of his stable, and was cut down by his wife. Life, however, was extinct. As the professor had but one arm, it had evidently required no little skill and careful preparation to make the noose and complete the necessary arrangements for the suicide. He had made all preparations very deliberately, and having put his head in the noose, kicked away the stool on which he stood, and was strangled to death. Mental aberration, due to melancholia, is the cause of Prof. Judd's death, given by his wife, who was prostrated by the dreadful shock and reaction after she had cut her husband's body down. Mrs. Judd said that her husband had been in a sanitarium prior to their taking up their residence on the Frederick road several months ago. She said she brought him there in the hope that the pleasant surroundings would divert his mind.

Taken to Prison.

Somerville, N. J., Oct. 23.—The notorious Sack Leahy gang, six in number, were taken to State prison this morning by Sheriff Cooper, and a posse of detectives. Fully 500 citizens gathered about the prisoners at the station, and the police had a hard time preventing a demonstration against the men, who are perhaps, the most desperate criminals ever sentenced in this State. They will serve ten years each.

News of the Day.

It is now said that the Panama canal will cost $300,000,000 and that the work is the task of a century.

W. F. Craig, of Lynn, Mass., while hunting in Maine, had a desperate fight with a bear, which he killed after being himself severely injured.

J. James Sankton, who was once friend of Joe Jefferson and Dan Rice, died yesterday in the Wheeling penitentiary. He was committed to the institution for murder of a woman in Washington, D. C.

Three men engaged in a pistol dual in a new York street car yesterday and when the police arrested them, after the car had run half a mile, all three were so badly injured that they had to be sent to a hospital.

Admiral Togo was given a magnificent reception yesterday on his public entry into Tokio to make his report to the Emperor on the return of his fleet from the war. The Emperor warmly praised the Admiral, his officers and men for their valiant service.

Sylvester D. Judd, formerly a professor at the Georgetown University, committed suicide by hanging himself in the stable at his country home, in Baltimore, Md., yesterday. Mental aberration due to melancholia is given as the reason for the act.

Great Falls and Old Dominion R. R.

A dispatch from Herndon says operations of the Great Falls and Old Dominion Railroad for passenger traffic, which it was promised should begin November 1, have again been deferred, and it is said that not before December 1 will the line be ready for business. Many of the residents along the new line are hoping that traffic will be opened before winter sets in, and it seems that the expectation of the management to accomplish this may be realized, as unusual energy has been exhibited and progress made during the past few weeks.

The greatest delay was the result of the company's attempt to gain access to the Falls by passing through the property of the Great Falls Power Company, a tract of between six and seven hundred acres of land for which that company paid something like $500,000 only a few years ago. It is said the Corporation Commission of Virginia gave the Old Dominion right to condemn a portion of this property for railroad purposes, but the Supreme Court of Appeals of the State reversed this action on the ground that the railroad company sought to condemn the land of the Great Falls Power Company for a terminal point on account of the rare scenic features it afforded and because of the attractions it would have to pleasure seekers from Washington city. In other respects the location possesses none of the advantagss ordinarily accruing to a railroad, and it was contended that but for the beauty of the scene it would have been avoided by the railroad company.

The Old Dominion was thus denied the power to condemn this land, and it then obtained from the board of survisors of Fairfax county permission to use the Georgetown and Leesburg pike for a little less than two miles, and in this way go around the Great Falls Power Company's land to the Falls.

Rails have been laid and poles placed as far as that point on the road; but the wires have not been strung the entire distance. Construction and supply trains have been in operation over a portion of the road for some time, and apparently every effort is being made to have the whole line in operation before the snow begins to fall.

Contract has been entered into with the Westinghouse, Church, Kerr Company of New York, whereby, it is said, the cars will be equipped with 200 horsepower motors, and will be able to make more than forty miles an hour.

While the bed of this road has been constructed in a most substantial manner, and the bridges over all the streams on the line are well built—one of these bridges being a steel structure 600 feet in length and 100 feet high—the bridges and the road bed are nevertheless not regarded as of such construction as would be necessary for the very heavy cars and locomotives in use on any of the steam railroads entering Washington. The final use of the Great Falls and Old Dominion Railroad by the Wabash or any other great steam road is very much doubted by a gentlemen who has been over the entire line and made it a study as an engineer. At any rate, it is claimed, it will be the very best electric road entering the city of Washington.

Monument to Pius X.

A monument to Pope Pius X., subscribed for by Catholics all over the world, was unveiled yesterday morning at Riese, the little village in the Venetian provinces where the Pope was born. The pontiff is represented in the act of administering a benediction. The entire village was decorated and national flags were conspicuous everywhere, while the walls were covered with inscriptions, one of which read: "Long live Pope Pius X., the first citizen of the world." The authorities formed a procession, headed by the Patriarch of Venice and six bishops of the neighboring dioceses, to the house where the Pope was born. The eldest sister of the Pope and other relatives, who own an inn called the Two Swords, where they themselves serve the customers, were the recipients of much attention.

A rumor spread throughout Rome yesterday morning that the Pope was ill. Dr. Lapponi, his physician, authorized the announcement that "the statement was inexact, the Pope merely having a cold, so slight that it could scarcely be called an indisposition." Since his last attack of gout, in January, the pontiff, the doctor says, has enjoyed perfect health. Yesterday the Pope received over 200 persons.

Virginia News.

Judge R. H. Beale, of Westmoreland county, suffered a stroke of paralysis Friday night, and his conditian is considered critical.

Mrs. Martha Cooper, widow of Dr. W. D. Cooper, died at her home, Morrillsville, Fauquier county, Friday, after an illness of several weeks, aged 82 years.

Surgeon General Rixey of the navy in his annual report says that considerations growing out of the geographical position of Norfolk, and the magnitude of naval interests in its vicinity, make it apparent that there should be located there a base hospital of the first class.

The annual meeting of the Grand Encampment, Knights Templar of Virginia will begin in Richmond on the evening of October 26th. The grand commander, Captain Frank W. Cunningham, has information from all of the commanderies in the State that every one will be represented.

Mayor Cutchin at Roanoke yesterday declared that as long as he is the city's chief executive he will appoint none but democrats to city positions. At last Friday night's session of the board of aldermen the Mayor was very severely criticised because it was alleged he sought to give office to democrats exclusively.

A letter from King George county says: "Notwithstanding the frequent heavy rains last spring, which it was supposed would destroy the bird eggs and even the young birds, partridges are as plentiful in this section now as in any October in recent years, and the indications are that other game, except wild turkeys, will be quite abundant when hunting season opens next month".

The governor has named delegates from every section of the State to represent Virginia at the southern conference on immigration and quarantine to be held at Chattanooga November 9th and 10th next, among them the mayors of all the cities including Alexandria, also members of the Virginia cities chambers of commerce including Messrs. M. B. Harlow and Wm. F. Carne, of Alexandria.

Capt. John H. Greanor died Saturday at the home of his son, Charles A. Greanor, at Hampton Heights, Newport News. He was in his eighty-second year. Mr. Greanor was a native of Richmond, and was for many years one of the most prominent tobacconists in the south. He entered the civil war as captain of the Richmond Grays, and was the last surviving member of the original company.

The printers' strike now on in Richmond reached the courts Saturday. Every job printing establishment in the city save one united in a prayer to Judge Grinnan, in a sweeping injunction against Typographical union No. 90, as a whole, and eighty-seven of its members as individuals to restrain them as an organization, and as individuals, from interfering with the business arrangements of the printing establishments. Judge Grinnan granted the injunction prayed for, which is returnable November 6.

Drowning Accidents.

A launch, containing nine men, all of Philadelphia, collided with a barge in the Delaware river off Beverly, N. J., late yesterday afternoon, resulting in the drowning of nine persons. Those rescued are Capt. John Winch, the owner of the launch; W. F. F. Russell, and J. Rutherford. The launch was hired by eight of the men, who lived in the northeastern part of Philadelphia. The elder Winch took his son along to assist him in running the boat. The day was spent near Croyden, on the Pennsylvania side of the river, and the start home was made late in the afternoon. Opposite Beverly the launch met the tug Bristol, in command of Capt. Mott, which was towing a barge to Bordentown. Whether Capt. Winch saw the barge is not known; nevertheless, he attempted to cross the tug's stern. Capt. Mott hailed him and tried to prevent him from doing so. Capt. Winch was standing at the wheel of the launch, and as he went around the stern the hawser of the tug struck him and knocked him overboard. Before the captain's son or any other member of the party could take the wheel to steer the launch clear of the barge, the latter struck the frail boat amidships, capsizing it. The launch rolled under the barge, and its occupants went with it. Capt. Mott put the tug about and went to the rescue. He and his crew threw ropes and life-preservers to the struggling men in the water, but they were only able to savethree of them.

Five persons are believed to have been drowned by the running down of a cat boat by a tug off South Yonkers yesterday. Members of the South Hudson Boat Club heard cries for help out on the river, and in the heavy mist that prevailed were able to make out the outlines of a capsized sailboat and of a tug that was running rapidly down the river. The cries ceased before the yachtsmen, who had put out to the rescue in a rowboat, reached the catboat, which they found deserted and with her side stove in. In a coat aboard the boat they found a list of names which proved to be those of the party who had gone sailing in the boat.

Stabbed at Dance.

At a dance Friday night at the home of Mrs. Clarence Curtis, near Ravensworth, Fairfax county, an altercation occurred between George Dove and Owen Bancroft in which the latter was dangerously stabbed. Each of the young men is about eighteen years of age. It is claimed that Dove was under the influence of liquor and committed the deed without the slightest provocation. Dove fled after the stabbing.

Some Seasonable Advice.

It may be a piece of superfluous advice to urge people at this season of the year to lay in a supply of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is almost sure to be needed before winter is over, and much more prompt and satisfactory results are obtained when taken as soon as a cold is contracted and before it has become settled in the system, which can only be done by keeping the remedy at hand. This remedy is so widely known and so altogether good that no one should hesitate about buying it in preference to any other. It is for sale by Gibson & Timberman and W. F. Creighton & Co.

Wards Off Pneumonia.

All coughs, colds and pulmonary complaints that are curable are quickly cured by One Minute Cough Cure. Cears the phlegm, draws out inflamation and heels and soothes the affected part strengthens the lungs, wards off pneumonia. Harmless and pleasant to take. Sold by W. Suit for Divorce.

Papers in a suit alleging novel grounds for divorce were filed Saturday in the office of the clerk of the Circuit Court of Clarke county, at Berryville, the complainant being Mrs. Maud Frye Arnette, of that county, and the defendant, Powell Arnette, a prominent farmer, also of Clarke. Arnette is said to be wealthy and is the owner of a fine farm.

Among other sensational statements in her bill of complaint, Mrs. Arnette alleges that, following strange and brutal treatment at the hands of her husband, the latter "brutally told her that she must stay on one side of the house and he would stay on the other, and that he proposed to draw a chalk line so as to divide her part of the house from his, and that she (Mrs. Arnette) could not cross the said chalk mark."

Mrs. Arnette says that she was married to the defendant on December 1, 1903, in Washington, D. C., and that she had been a good and faithful wife to the defendant. Mrs. Arnette asserts that on the day after their marriage her husband broke off matrimonial relations with her. The complainant says that Mr. Arnette offered her $3,000 or would pay her $25 per month during the rest of her life if she would leave him. This offer she rejected. After exhausting all efforts to reconcile her husband, and "because of his brutal and unnatural treatment of her," Mrs. Arnette says she was compelled to leave him on December 12, 1903. As a result of her husband's treatment the complainant says she suffered nervous prostration and was very ill for eighteen months.

Mrs. Arnette prays the court for adequate mainteinance, for reasonable attorney's fees, and for an injunction restraining her husband from disposing of his personal and real estate until the issue of the suit. The case will come to trial before Judge L. W. Harrison, in the Circuit Court of Clarke county.

Confederate Veterans.

The eighteenth annual reunion of the Grand Camp Confederate Veterans of Virginia in Petersburg Octboer 25th, 26th and 27th, is expected to be the greatest celebration of its kind ever held in Petersburg.

Thousands of veterans and sons of veterans from all Virginia, many from other States, includtng numbers of union veterans, several regiments of State troops, and a host of visitors to see the big celebration will be greeted with the spirit of true southern hospitality, and welcomed to many entertainments where sons of veterans will vie with the old soldiers in chivalrous gallantry to the fair company of sponsers, maids of honor and many other daughters of old Virginia, whose presence will grace the parlors and ballrooms of the city.

The ceremonies and celebrations will be inaugurated by the convening of the Grand Camp at the Academy of Music Wednesday at noon, when the meeting will be opened with prayer by Rev. Dr. Hyde, grand chaplain. On behalf of the city, Mayor William M. Jones will deliver an address of welcome to the Grand Camp, to which Past Grand Commander G. L. Christian, of Richmond, will respond. A. P. Hill Camp's welcome to their old comrades will be extended by Commander L. L. Marks, to whom First Lieutenant Grand Commander John H Fulton, of Wytheville, will respond. Thursday, the day of the grand parade and reproduction of the battle of the Crater on the historic battlefield near the city, will probably be the greatest reunion event, as the parade and sham battle are expected to prove the most spectacular event of the three days.

The President in Florida.

President Roosevelt started last night for his tour of Alabama. He ieft St. Augustine at 9 o'clock, and is not scheduled to make a stop of any length until he reaches Mobile this evening at 4:30.

His day in St. Augustine was a quiet one. The President attended services in the Presbyterian Memorial Church at 11 o'clock. The church was crowded. At the conclusion of the services the President was taken for a short drive about the city. After luncheon, the President drove to Fort Marion, where his party boarded a launch and went to Anastasia, an island. There the party donned bathing suits and had a bath in the salt water. The President greatly enjoyed the bath.

Dinner was served at the hotel last night, after which the President drove to his train. St. Augustine was full of strangers attracted by the President.

A large crowd lined around his hotel all day anxious to catch a glimpse of him. He received but few visitors, however, and got the rest of which he stood in need.

This week will see the end of his trip. After visiting Mobile today, he will spend Tuesday at Tuskegee, Montgomery and Birmingham. Wednesday he will devote to Little Rock, Ark., and Thursday he will visit New Orleans, leaving that evening on a government vessel for Washington.

Thrashed by Mother-in-law.

Before many girl stenographers and numerous clerks in the equipment department of the New York and New Jersey Telephone Company, at 30 Gold street, New York, Mrs. Elizabeth B. Thompson, of 319 Division avenue, Brooklyn, thrashed Frederick Dykeman, her son-in-law, with a strap, Saturday afternoon. The office force was thrown into great confusion, several of the stenographers running into the halls to escape the scene. Dykeman said the whipping was the outcome of domestic quarrels. The victim of the attack has been employed at the office for the last six years. He said he was so excited he did not know whether his mother-in-law used a horsewhip or a strap. His version of the affair follows: "Since I married her daughter, two years ago, Mrs. Thompson has been trying her utmost to get us separated. My wife does not desire it, and for sometime we have kept our address from her. She has been bothering me by sending letters here to my office, and about three weeks ago I wrote to her and told her that I did not care to have anything more to do with her. This letter was undoubtedly the cause of all the trouble today."

Cheated Death.

Kidney trouble often ends fatally, but by choosing the right medicine, E. H. Wolfe, of Bear Grove, Iowa, cheated death. He says: "Two years ago I had Kidney Trouble, which caused me great pain, suffering and anxiety, but I took Electric Bitters, which effected a complete cure. I have also found them of great benefit in general debility and nerve trouble, and kept them constantly on hand, since, as I find they have no equal.' E. S. Today's Telegraphic News

Death of Jerry Simpson.

Wichita, Mo., Oct. 23.—Ex-Congressman Jerry Simpson died at 6:02 a. m., today. He had been critically ill for some time.

Jerry Simpson, the "Sockless Jerry," who first amused and later was respected by the national House of Representatives, was the most famous populist that most unique of political movements in this county furnished as one of its leaders. 'Sockless" he was called probably because in one his first speeches in southwestern Kansar he said: "Look at us poor people, who do not even have socks to wear."

Born in New Brunswick in 1842, Jerry Simpson immigrated to New York with his parents at the age of six. He spent twenty-three years as a sailor on the Great Lakes, serving a brief period during the civil war. In 1878 he settled near Medicine Lodge, Kas. When the populistic wave swept Kansas, he was carried on its foretront. Elected to the Fifty-second Congress as a populist, he was returned to the Fifty-third as a democrat, and was defeated next time by Chester I. Long, now Senator. He defeated Long for the Fifty-fifth Congress, but then Long beat him and Simpson retired from politics. The last years of his life were spent on a beautiful fruit ranch near Roswell, N. M. As the recognized leader of the handful of populists in the House, Simpson controlled a lot of time and his numerous speeches were always attentively heard. He was good friends with Speaker Reed, who like other able men in the House respected his ability. Simpson feared no man and would debate with any. His biting sarcasm, quick sense of humor and sound common sense made him a man far above the average ability of members of Congress. Baiting Mr. Dingley was Simpson's favorite pastime. Once Col. "Pete" Hepburn advised the populist to look in the tariff's expert's hat. There "Sockless Jerry" saw a London shop mark. For one whole day day Simpson rooted Dingley for preaching the cause of American manufacturers and himself buying hats made in England. Dingley squirmed, but was for once routed.

Strike Spreading.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 23.—The strike on the railways is spreading. The late accessions to the ranks of the strikers are the men from the districts of Saratoff, Samara, Kurskand Kalovv who joined the number. Despite the gravity of the situation when the least untoward act on the part of the authorities may bring on the trouble, General Trepoff, the Assistant Minister of the Interior, has forbidden the holding of meetings. A warning has also been issued to the universities because thousands of workmen have been in the habit of gathering there daily.

A patriotic party has been started at Moscow which has for its purpose the enrollment of 100,000 armed men to protect the Czar from high officials.

Riot in Chili.

Santiago, Chili, Oct. 23.—Ten persons were killed and hundreds were wounded in a conflict between the police and rioters which occurred here yesterday. The riot started at a meeting called to petition the government to abolish the import tax on Argentine cattle. The troops are absent from the city engaged in manoeuvres and owing to their absence it was impossible to keep order. The police fired on the rioters with the result told. This did not quell the mob, however, which vented its anger by destroying street cars and smashing electric lights. At 8 o'clock last night, when the disorder was at its height, the fire department was ordered out to assist in maintaining order. It is expected that troops will reach the city today.

Pleas of Not Guilty.

Chicago, Oct. 23.—The indicted packers today filed general and special plea as to the charges that they conspired, in restraint of trade and thereby violated the anti-trust laws, denying all the allegations, protesting that the government exhausted its legal remedy against them, by obtaining an injunction in the United States court, and questioning the existence of any law to punish them for any of the acts alleged to have been comitted. Their pleas reduced to their exact meaning are "not guilty," "no jurisdiction" and bar to further prosecution because of the bill in equity and the injunction issued by United States Judge Grosscup. Judge Humphrey will probably resume hearing the cases as soon as the district attorney can read the pleas and prepare answers to them.

Unrest in Poland.

Warsaw, Poland, Oct. 23.—General unrest has been caused among workingmen by the strikes now in progress in Moscow, and an account of the demonstration made both in St. Petersburg and Moscow on the occasion of the funeral of the late Prince Trubetskoi. The situation is such that there is fear of an outbreak at any time. Proclamations have been issued urging the workingmen not to appear when the annual levies of soldiers are made. They are also advised to oppose with force the decrees of the authorities. Street processions are being arranged to show the sympathy of the workingmen here with the strikers at Moscow and St. Petersburg.

Mutiny and Murder.

Berlin, Oct. 23.—The report of a mutiny on the British ship Emperor, in which it is alleged the captain and cook of the vessel were murdered by the crew, has been received here. The Emperor was bound from the West Indies to Riga, with a mixed crew of Russian Croatians and Italians. The crew rose against Captain Frank and murdered him. The cook, who was the only other Englishman on board, the ship, was also murdered. Lack of provisions led the ship to put into Swinemunde. There the crew got drunk and told of what they had done. The police there are investigating the affair.

Letter to J. A. Dienelt.

Alexandria, Va.

Dear Sir: It costs two or three times as much to put paint on as to buy it. A gallon of poor paint costs as much as a gallon of good, for the work; and a gallon of poor don't go half as far. Poor paint lasts half or a third or a quarter as long as good; and protects wood and iron a half or a third or a quarter as well as good. Do you buy good paint or poor? You don't know any poor? Why, the market is ful of it!

Double Mystery.

New York, Oct. 23.—With the capture by the authorities of the sloop Doroda, on which were found evidences that she has been used by Sound pirates, together with the effects of Robert A. Jackson, the young midshipman who disappeared from the battleship Missouri, and of Olga Maxwell, the New York woman who was with young Jackson, when he quit ship without leave, the police have a double mystery to solve. Young Jackson who is the son of the Representative of the Standard Oil Company in Petersburg, Va., was found by his father after ten days in Canada. He said that he had no recollection of leaving the ship, and could remember little after joining the woman. It was found that Jackson and the woman journeyed to Boston and that the woman had there quit him, returning to her home in this city. The Doroda, to the amazement of the sheriff and his men, was heavily loaded with expensive bric-a-brae, a valuable assortment of silverware, clothing, furniture. Oriental rugs of value and other household goods which the police believed were stolen in raids made on the homes of many millionaires along the sound. Further search brought forth the effects of Midshipman Jackson and Miss Maxwell. There were also clippings from newspapers telling of young Jackson's disappearance.

Then it developed that the Doroda was owned by Mrs. Ruth Jackson, of Taunton, Mass., whose son, Henry Allen Jackson, has given her much trouble.

Mutiny on Schooner.

New York, Oct. 23.—Following mutiny of the crew on board the schooner Ida B. Gibson while bound for Norfolk, lumber laden, and her arrival here, two men were shot early today, two men were stabbed, one man is missing and probably murdered, and the schooner is fast settling and will likely soon be at the bottom of the East river, where she is tied. The mutiny on board the Gibson developed after the vessel ran through the bar outside of Norfolk early last week. She stove in her side and to keep her from sinking the crew was put at the pumps. It was hard work, and the men rebelled, but with the free use of belaying pins and other handy implements, the captain held the mutineers in check until the craft tied up in the East river. Then all hands, with the exception of the mate and cook, were discharged by Captain Bradley, and paid the money due them. Later the discharged men became involved in a row with other men on the street, and took refuge on the schooner. It was here that the shooting occurred while resisting the police.

Fire in Richmond.

Richmond, Va., Oct. 23.—While crowds were scurrying to a fire at Thirteenth and Cary street at 11:30 o'clock this morning, they witnessed an explosion of a fire engine, which for a few seconds menaced the lives of scores. Just as the ponderous apparatus had gotten to the southwest corner of Thirteenth and Main streets it went over one of the of the iron-capped manholes.

In an instant a frightful explosion accompanied by a roar like the thunder of a cannon, followed. The expanse was enough to lift the huge apparatus at least three feet. At eleventh and Main streets, the iron cap of the manhole, which probably weighs 300 or 400 pounds, was sent 120 feet in the air.

At Twelfth and Main streets the conditions were precisely the same as at Eleventh. At Fourteenth street the explosion also showed its strength. Here a huge water pipe was smashed and the cap of the manhole hurled out of position, while the Belgian block pavement was loosened from the terrestrial sockets. No lives were lost and no one was injured.

Fire in Executive Mansion.

Jefferson City, Mo., Oct. 23.—The executive mansion caught fire this morning in the big reception hall just below the sleeping apartment of the Governor and Mrs. Folk, who were asleep at the time. The smoke awakened the Governor who assisted Mrs. Folk from the building and turned in an alarm. When the first company arrived the Governor donned an old rubber coat and acted as chief of the fire company. As he was famaliar with the situation, he directed every movement of the company, chief Gray giving way to him. In a short time the fire was extinguished, the damage amounting to $1,000, fully covered by insurance. The fire originated from a defective wire. This morning convicts from the penitentiary removed the debris.

Growing Sentiment for Republic.

Christiana, Norway, Oct. 23.—The sentiment in favor of establishing a republic in Norway is growing stronger all the time. Every day petitions are received by the Storthing, demanding a plebiscite to determine the future form of government of the country. The Storthing has postponed the discussion of this question for the time being. It is reported that Denmark has demanded preliminary guarantees that Prince Charles will be accepted as King of Norway.

The Siberia Sighted.

San Francisco, Oct. 23.—The steamer Siberia, with Miss Alice Roosevelt and E. H. Harriman aboard, was sighted 35 miles out at 9:30 this morning. She is enacted to reach port about noon, and dock an hour later.

New York Stock Market.

New York, Oct. 23.—The feature of trading during the first hour was heavy profit taking by large room traders and commission houses that had joined in the buying late last week. A large part of the morning's purchases was covering by shorts. Price movements were generally upward at the opening and interest in the first few minutes, then the realizing cause reactions extending from ¼ to ½ points, but there was good support on this decline and in recent rading prices show a general recovery from the lowest range in the first hour. The profit-taking movement was apparently ended before the close of the first hour, while the demand after that became more urgent.

Jr. O. U. A. M.

The Junior Order United American Mechanics, one of the leading organizations of the city, held a special meeting on Saturday evening last for the purpose of conferring the degrees of the order upon a class; and also as a means of instruction to the newly organized councils in this section of the State. It was one of the most successful meetings ever held by the local councils; namely; Alexandria Council, No. 33, and Belle Haven Council, No. 61. The visiting councils arrived here by special train at 7:30 p. m. and were met at the station by the members of the order in this city with a drum corps, and were escorted to the Jr. O. U. A. M. hall, on King street, where they were duly received. The following Councils were represented; Round Hill, No 203; Purcellville; No 99. Hamilton, No. 188; Lovettsville, No. 198; Waterford, No. 75; Herndon, No. 206; Vienna, No. 97; Dunn Loring, No. 205; Fairfax, No. 202; Bull Run, No. 104; and Kinsale, No. 54. in addition to the above there were present; National Council Inside Sentinel, E. L. S. Bouton, of Vienna; chairman of National Legislation Committee and editor of "The American," of Raleigh, N. C., Z. P. Smith; Past National Representative O. B. Hopkins, of Richmond, Va.; State Vice Councilor, James W. Jones, of Vienna; Past State Councilor, James R. Mansfield; F. C. Elliott and G. N. Cradlin, members of the State Council Finance Committee; J. H. Trimyer, State Council Treasurer, and J. H. Smallwood, State Council Secretary of District of Columbia.

The council was opened in form with devotional exercises after which the degrees of the order were conferred by a special team of Alexandria Council, assisted by Belle Haven Council, under direction of Captain Frank Peverill: The special team was made up as follows: Councilor, James R. Mansfield; Vice Councilor, L. D. Lyles; Past Councilor, O. H. Daniels; Chaplain, A. A. Paul; Conductor, C. N. Rauch; Warden, J. W. Wills; Inside Sentinel, Frank Elliot; also the following: L. D. Sullivan, W. Zimmerman, Fred. Mills, H. F. Mansfield, F. Jackson, Wm. Watkins, Charles Kell, W. H. Lyles, J. R. N. Curtin and Roger Sullivan. After the conferring of the degrees the members were addressed by Past Councilor Jas. L. Wilmeth, of Vienna, and State Councilor Z. P. Smith, of Raleigh, N. C. The welcome accorded Mr. Smith amounted to an ovation. The gentlemen was at his best. With fiery eloquence he fairly covered the field relating to one of the objects of the order, i. e. the restriction of immigration. The hall was beautifully decorated with flags and emblems of the order and the meeting was pronounced a most decided success by all. There was present during the evening between 300 and 400 members of the order. The visitors left for their homes at 11:40 highly pleased with their evening's visit.

Vitrified Brick Work.

The work of laying vitrified brick on Royal street, between King and Cameron, is now in progress. The concreting has been completed and in a few days another square of improved roadway will have been added to the city, making the third this year. Prince street, between Fairfax and Lee, has been opened for some time, and Lee, between Prince and Duke, will soon be ready for traffic. Cobblestones are to be allowed to remain in front of the old City Hotel on Royal street for the present, the parties owning the same having refused to pay their proportion of cost, but in the meantime efforts will be made to secure legislation whereby two-thirds of the property-owners on a square can have improvements made and those refusing to sign applications will have their pro rata of cost assessed against the property.

Disorderly Negroes.

Twenty-two negroes (six of whom were women) were before the Police Court this morning charged with disorderly conduct. These arrests followed the shooting of a colored man named Hamilton in a place kept by a colored man Saturday night. Some of the accused were dismissed, but most of them had fines assessed against them. Six of the prisoners were young colored women whose services are in demand at present, but many of their class loiter about eating houses and saloons and refuse to work at remunerative wages.

Charter.

The State Corporation Commission has granted a charter to the Industrial Engineering and Supply Company, with principal offices in Alexandria. The incorporators are: Walter R. Metz, president, Washington; R. W. Bau, secretary and treasurer, Chevy Chase Lake, Md., and James W. Mewsnow, general manager, Washington. The maximun capital stock of the concern is fixed at $5,000, with a minimum of $500. The purpose of the company is to do a general engineering and supply business.

Yesterday.

The weather yesterday, like that of the preceding few days, was cold, and considerable frost could be seen during the early hours. It is said that skims of ice were visible in places in the country adjoining Alexandria. A stiff northwest wind prevailed most of the day. The churches had average congregations at both the morning and night services and there were many people on the streets during the day. Large numbers passed between this city and Washington on electric trains.

Shot in Shoulder.

Perry Hamilton, colored, was shot Saturday night in the right shoulder at the home of Benjamin Hughes, colored, on south Columbus street, during a row over a game of cards. Hamilton was conveyed to the Alexandria Hospital, where his wound was dressed. His injury is not serious and Hamilton refused to remain at the hospital. The police are looking for David Powell, also colored, who is charged with the shooting.

Police Court.

[Justice H. B. Caton presiding.]

The following cases were disposed of this morning:

John Striff, arrested by Constable Cornell and Officer Sherwood charged with stealing a cow from Mrs. Downey at Spring Bank, was turned over to the Fairfax authorities. He was later taken before Justice Triplett who fined him $15 and sent him to jail for six months. The cow has been recovered and turned over to its owner.

The cases of Elsom vs. the W. A. & Mt. V. Ry. and Wells vs. the same company, were set for trial on Friday next and special juries were summoned for that day.

Capt. Phillips on the Stump.

Among the republicans who are making a canvass of Westmoreland and Northumberland counties is Capt. Frank Phillips, chairman of the city republican committee of Alexandria. Capt. Phillips, by deserting his post at home, shows clearly that he has no idea of his party's success in Alexandria, but a correspondent from Irvington who writes that the captain is in that section, knowingly adds, that so far the democrats have had no speakers of prominence here; evidently meaning that such are unnecessary.

The Churches.

Yesterday was a quiet, cool October Sunday and the churches were all well attended. The pulpits of several of the churches were occupied by visiting clergymen. Rev. J. G. Meem, of Brazil, delivered an address at Christ Church in the morning and at Grace Church at night; at St. Mary's Church Rev. W. J. Ennis, of Georgetown, preached at the late mass, and the pulpit of Trinity M. E. Church was occupied at both morning and evening services by Rev. R. Feltner, the presiding elder.

Not What the Lawyers Wanted.

"Lawyers have some queer experiences," said the judge. "One of them was telling of a case heard before me. A young man had been arrested for larceny, and he sent for this lawyer.

"The young fellow told the attorney that he was innocent, but that he had no friends in the city and no money. His mother, however, was in fair circumstances, and he knew that she would help him. What he wanted the lawyer to do was to defend him and also send a telegram to his mother telling of his fix and asking for aid. The lawyer agreed to this and made such a good defense that the young man was acquitted.

"He and the attorney went direct to the telegraph office to which the message had been ordered sent and found it. The young man was so grateful to the lawyer that he handed him the unopened envelope, telling him that he must take all the money that his mother had telegraphed him. The lawyer tore open the yellow cover, and his eyes were greeted with these words:

"Put your trust in God. I am praying for you. MOTHER."

"Aging" a Rug.

A good deal of fraud is practiced in selling antique "Kazaks," "Daghestans" and similar rugs, for there are hardly any of these which are more than fifteen years old. They are "aged" artificially, but you must understand nevertheless that these rugs are well made of the very finest wools, and the native dyes used are pure and good. When they have been made they are lent in the village to "the butcher, the baker and the candlestick maker"—to any one, in fact, in whose house there is plenty of traffic. Here the carpets are trampled upon and made to look old. They are afterward washed in a running stream and then dried in the sun. And by these means the rugs get an antique complexion and a certain gloss which are much appreciated. What may be called a genuine "antique" is thus manufactured and sold in the bazaar for ten times or twenty times the price for which it could be bought in London.—Constantinople Letter.

Garibaldi's Ashes.

It is generally known that Garibaldi left directions in his will for the cremation of his body and that through the intermediary of the Italian government his wishes were overruled. Few, however, are probably aware of the minutiae of detail into which Garibaldi entered upon the subject or of the extent of self consciousness which is evident at every line of the direction. "Facing the sea you shall erect a pyre two meters high, built of acacia wood, myrtle and other aromatic trees and plants growing at Caprera. On this lay a sheet of iron, on which shall be placed my body, dressed in the red shirt. A handful of the ashes place near the coffins of my daughters Rosa and Anita." The rest were to be blown away by the wind as seeds of liberty for other parts of the world.—London Globe.

Paley on Private Property.

Archdeacon Paley, who died on May 25, 1805, wrote "Evidences of Christianity." The archdeacon likened "the divine right of kings" to "the divine right of constables" and satirized the institution of private property by the simile of a hundred pigeons in a field of corn. If, "instead of each picking where and what it liked, taking just as much as it wanted and no more," ninety-nine of them were to reserve only the chaff and refuse for themselves and heap up the rest for "the weakest, perhaps worst, pigeon of the flock," that, said Paley, would be just like human private property.

Four White Fetlocks.

In France in former times a horse that possessed four white stockings had the privilege of being free from toll. There is a passage in one of the works of Frederick Mistral, the famous poet of Provence, to the following effect: "By the rule of the road there was an old custom which was respected by all, that the carter whose leader had four white stockings, whether going uphill or downhill, had the right not to leave the road—that is, the narrow paved part when the rest was in a bad state—and thus arose the proverb, 'Who has four white feet can pass everywhere.'"

How to Eat German Carp.

The Clifton Hill (Mo.) Rustler gives the following directions for eating German carp: When fishing, if you catch a German carp clean it and hang it out in the sun six weeks to dry, then nail it to a pine board and cover it thoroughly with salt or mud. Let it stand for two months longer, and then bake it two days. Remove the nails, throw the carp over the back fence and eat the board, but never eat the carp.

The Artist's Industry.

Bacon—You say your artist friend is industrious? Egbert—Very. Why, I've known him to work over four years on one picture. Bacon—Is that possible? Egbert—It is. He was a month painting it and four years trying to sell it!—Yonkers Statesman.

More Appropriate.

Rita—Did you say "This is so sudden!" when Jack proposed?

"No. I intended to, you know, but I was so flustered that I forgot and cried, 'At last!' instead."

Proved.

"Do fishes grow fast, Jimmie?"

"Some of them do. My father caught one last year that grows an inch every time he tells about it."—Cassell's.

The understanding is more relieved by change of study than by total inactivity.—Cluion.

Light and Sound.

Light travels so vastly much faster than sound that there is no comparison between their velocities. The velocity of light is about 190,000 miles a second. At this speed light will travel about eight times around the earth in a second, and light starting from the sun will traverse the 93,000,000 miles of space intervening between the sun and the earth in eight minutes. So it is seen light flashes from one part of the earth to another, even the most remote, instantaneously, or practically so. Sound travels worse than a snail's pace as compared with light, going only about 1,100 feet in a second, or about a mile in five seconds, or twelve miles in a minute. These facts are noticed, though not always understood, by any one who sees a gun fired only a few hundred yards away. The flash and the puff of smoke are seen instantaneously; the report of the gun always comes perceptibly later, the time intervening being greater or less, according to the distance.

Catching the Early Spider.

One must be an early riser if he would photograph a spider's web, for the delicate fabric must be taken when the dew is yet on it, so that the outlines will be in sharp relief. The best success is obtained when the webs are on pine trees, and spiders seem to favor these trees because of the shelter they afford. Look on the least exposed side of the tree for your web, for instinct teaches the little creatures to make their homes where the strong winds do not strike. In taking the picture the lens should be brought very near the web, in order to make the threads as large as possible. I have photographed a spider's web with a 4 by 5 camera and with a 6½ by 8½ instrument, having equally good success in each case. It is well to have a rubber focusing cloth and to keep it over the camera all the time, for the person who hunts spiders' webs early in the morning must be prepared for dampness.—Suburban Life.

The Term "Greenhorn."

The term "greenhorn" originated in this way: The pioneers of the west were much given to hunting deer. It was a fact known to early settlers that when the horn of a fawn began to grow there was a ring of green hair around the spot. It was considered a disgraceful thing for a hunter to kill a fawn, a cruel act, and the killing time was regulated by the growth of the horn. There was a sort of unwritten law that no one should kill a male fawn before its horn could be seen. A person who was so unthoughtful as to kill a deer under the proper age was called a "greenhorn." He was so named because the young horn of the deer and the hair around it were still green. The use of the appellation gradually spread until it was applied to all raw or inexperienced youths or persons easily imposed upon.

His Weak Point.

A man was killed by a circular saw, and in his obituary notice it was stated that he was "a good citizen, an upright man, and an ardent patriot, but of limited information regarding circular saws."

Gave the Bride Away.

Stella—Who gave the bride away—her father? Bella—No, her little brother. During the ceremony he told everything he knew about her.

Let us watch our beginnings and results will manage themselves.—Clark.

A Daredevil Ride

often ends in a sad accident. To heal accidental injuries, use Bucklen's Arnica Salve." "A deep wound in my foot, from an accident," writes Theodore Schuele, of Columbus, O., "caused me great pain. Physicians were helpless, but Bucklen's Arnica Salve quickly healed it." Soothes and heals burns like magic. 25c at E. S. Leadbeater, & Sons, druggists.

Could Not be Better.

The uniform success of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy has won for it a wide reputation and many people throughout the country will agree with Mr. Chas. W. Mattison, of Milford, Va., who says: "It works like magic, and is the best preparation I know of. It couldn't be any better." He had a serious attack of dysentery and was advised to try a bottle of this remedy, which he did, with the result that immediate relief was obtained. For sale by Gibson & Timberman and W. F. Creighton & Co.
